When McKinney students return to the school room, September 6, for the Fall semester, they will be greeted with newly painted rooms, as well as other improvements.

Throughout the summer a maintenance crew, composed of custodians and other school employes, have been busy reconditioning the buildings in the way of repainting, repairing, installing new furniture, and other improvements. School Manager E. A. Randles supervised the work program in which practically every school in the city received some repair.

• • •

Campuses Worked.

The campuses of most of the schools were also given special attention, such as resodding, watering and landscaping.

The J. L. Greer (North) Ward School floors were refinished, ceilings and walls, and rest rooms, repainted, and the outside frame work painted.

The cafeterian floors were refinished also.

The Fanny Finch (South) Ward received the same attention, while at the J. W. Webb (East) Ward School, four new class rooms were added to the already year-old building. The furniture for the new addition will be installed Friday.

• • •

Paint and Repairs.

At Boyd High and L. A. Scott Junior High Schools, the rest rooms were repainted, the cafeteria, in Boyd High, was repainted and the floors refinished; and storage shelves built. Book cases were also built for all schools in the city.

Fertilizer was placed on the grounds at the High Schools, and they were watered at regular intervals throughout the summer.

• • •

Football Field Improved.

The football field was not overlooked in this repair program, the scoreboard being repainted and repairs made to the West stadium seats, press box seats and the inner and outer fences of the field. Sideline markers were replaced and the field fertilized and watered. It is in fine condition for the gridiron season which opens within the next month.

"BIG INCH" TO "BIG D" STARTS

The long-awaited "big inch" to Big D was started Wednesday from Lake Lavon.

As the first section of a 42-inch water pipe went into a ditch 10 feet deep and 55 inches wide, Dallas was assured a 30,000,000 gallons-a-day boost in its water supply by Jan. 1, 1957.

This is the capacity of the king-sized water line which will funnel water into the city's Northeastern suburbs after it is filtered in a $2,500,000 water treatment plant rising a mile North of town.

• • •

Directors View Start.

As seven directors of the North Texas Municipal Water District stood by, Contractor P. C. Sorenson swung the first big pipe into the ditch.

He will lay 63,500 feet of 42-inch as far as Garland, then 24,000 feet of 36-inch water line into Big D.

Sorenson has 272 days to dig a ditch 7 to 10 feet wide and to bury the big pipe, but he says he will have the pipe-laying job done by Feb. 1.

The actual flow of Lavon water into Dallas must await completion of the big filtration plant Jan. 1, 1957.

• • •

Water By 1957.

"Dallas and everybody will have Lavon Lake water then, announced Carr Forrest, consulting engineer to both the NTMWD and Dallas. "One hundred miles of water line to Dallas and 10 towns will be ready long before the filtration plant is finished."

This water line will also send Lavon water into Wylie, Garland, Mesquite, McKinney, Plano, Rockwall, Royse City, Forney, Princeton and Farmersville.

• • •

M'Kinneyites Attend.

On hand to watch the first leg pipe lowered into the ditch Wednesday were such NTMWD directors as: H. R. Bisby, Garland, president; Clifford Carpneter, Farmersville, vice-president; Hansford Ray, McKinney; Alex Schelk, Plano; N. E. Shands, Mesquite; J. O. Wallace, Rockwall; Haskell Roach, Garland.

P. C. Sorenson and his son, Raymond, who will lay the 51,130,000 pipe line into Dallas, served cold drinks and helped Consulting Engineer Forrest answer questions.

• • •

Dallas Has Contract.

Dallas has a contract to buy 7,500,000 to 15,000,000 gallons of Lavon Lake water a day from the 10-town NTMWD.

As for the water supply in Lavon Lake, it's as big as it ever will be. Wednesday the Army Corps of Engineers reported 42,737,000,000 gallons behind the big dam on the East Fork of the Trinity River.

BRIDE IN CHURCH WEDDING

MRS. JAMES R. DOWDY

Miss Betty Jean Niell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Niell, and James R. Dowdy, son of Judge and Mrs. W. C. Dowdy, of McKinney, were united in marriage Friday evening, August 26, at 8 o'clock at the First Methodist Church. The Reverend H. C. Hoy, pastor of the church, officiated using the impressive double-ring ceremony.

The couple exchanged their vows in a candlelight ceremony before an altar embanked with ferns, baskets of white gladiolus, chrysanthemums and stock. Floor standards held the candles.

Mrs. Gibson Caldwell played the traditional wedding marches at the pipe organ, and also accompanied Miss Eunice Allen, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of crystal white Chantilly lace and French tulle, made with a lace frosted bodice over satin, with lace insets over the floor length satin skirt. The V-shaped neckline tapered to a row of tiny lace-covered buttons down the back of the dress, extending beyond the waist. Tiny buttons also fastened the petal point sleeves. Her veil was attached to a lace and satin Juliet cap, accented with pleated tulle and seed pearls, and she carried a bride's bouquet of white gardenias, tied with stephanotis and satin streamers.

Miss Carolyn Connally, of Dallas, attended as maid of honor, while bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Millikien, of Garland, and Miss Marijane Fischer, of New Braunfels. Their identical dresses were of pastel pink chiffon, designed with draped neckline. The bodice was shirred, with tiny buttons extending beyond the waistline. They wore small headpieces of velveteen and tulle, in pink, and carried arm bouquets of pink asters.

William C. Dowdy Jr., of Dallas, attended his brother as best man, while groomsmen and ushers were James Dugger, Jackie Woods, Joe Clyde Boone and Arthur McNiel, of McKinney; Jimmy Woods, of Denton and Osborn Davis of Whitesboro.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlors where pink and white were the colors used for decorating the table. Assisting in the houseparty were Mrs. James Rollins, Mrs. Jackie Woods, Mrs. Jimmy Woods, Mrs. Bob Kreigh, Mrs. Hershel Burrow, Miss Roylene Kliaglesmith, Miss Virginia Dowdy, Miss Martha Bergvall, Miss Patricia LaRoe and Miss Margaret Neal.

When Mr. and Mrs. Dowdy left for a week's wedding trip, the bride was wearing a blue faille suit with black accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. They will return to Austin to reside where Mr. Dowdy will attend the University of Texas. He will be a senior premed student this year.

Mrs. Dowdy attended North Texas State College in Denton.

LETTERS FROM . . .

THE PEOPLE

The Daily Courier and Weekly Democrat:

In fable, a cat said to a mouse, "Lets cooperate." What terms? asked the mouse. I will open my mouth and you can run in" said the cat. The national Democratic chairman offered Texas Democrats similar terms. He demanded that national committeeman Wright Morrow should be replaced by a man oked by Rayburn and Johnson, and must have voted for Stevenson who said that the U.S. owned the Texas tidelands by patrimony (inheritance), but it had in 1819 ceded all of its interest in Texas to Spain. It did not claim any land in Texas when it tendered to Texas the anexation treaty, which said after Texas ceded to the U.S. all ports, harbors and pertaining to the public defense, Texas shall retain all vacant and unappropriated land with its limits and the first call of its boundary said "Beginning at the mouth of the Sabine River and running West three leagues from land along the Gulf of Mexico to the mouth of the Rio Grande and then up said river etc. showing the title to the tideland and the inlands is the same.

When Stevenson threatened to veto any bill awarding to Texas said tideland, the Texas Democratic state convention recommended that Texans should feel free to vote for Eisenhower who had promised to approve such a bill which he did and up to June 10, 1955, Texas had received $48,124,585. Did Morrow deserve to be ousted because he helped to prevent Stevenson and the left-wingers from robbing Texas tax-payers and school children of their multi-million dollar tideland?

Some of them have started in Washington to renew their fight for Texas tidelands. So they want to displace Morrow with a man who will profess loyalty to Texas but like Pontius Pilate will vote to deliver Texas to those who promise to crucify her.

I think it would be best for Texas and the Democratic party for our executive committee to rescind its recent action and ask Wright Morrow to stay in there and pitch.

COLLIN COUNTY FAIR OPENS NEXT MONTH

The 1955 catalogs of the Collin County Fair and North Texas Jersey Cattle Show, have been sent out to 1250 persons in this area, announces Earl Shollenberger, president of the Fair Association this year. The catalogs were designed and outlined by E. A. Randles, member of the Catalog committee, assisted by Mrs. A. J. Press who had charge of selling the advertising.

• • •

$3000 In Premiums.

This is the first year advertising has been used in the catalog, with merchants, not only of McKinney, but throughout the county, using space. The proceeds from ads will be used to defray the cost of the fair this year, rather than the solicitation of funds from local merchants, as heretofore. The premiums this year will amount to around $3,000, the largest in the history of our county fair.

The Catalog committee, composed of Randles, Joe Snapp and Urna Watson, have arranged the catalog as a book of information for the exhibitors as well as an almanac for the persons to whom copies have been sent. The almanac section contains helpful hints, tables of weights and measures, and other valuable information.

The catalog proper, carries a list of the Fair officials, County Purebred Livestock officers; County Saddle Association officers, departmental superintendents, schedule of events and judging, rules and regulations, and general information for exhibitors and visitors. The advertising space is used alternately with the general information, throughout the booklet.

• • •

Fair Dates Announced.

The fair will open September 28, continuing for four days, through October 1, with all exhibits and events at the fair grounds in East McKinney, except the women's exhibits, which will probably be displayed in the City Coliseum building.

• • •

Big D. Jamboree.

One of the outstanding features of this year's show is the appearance of Big D Jamboree radio and television stars on the nights of September 28 and 29. Two performances will be given each night, and will be held in the rodeo arena on the fair grounds. In case of rain, the show will be held in the Boyd High School auditorium.

Randles is chairman of advanced ticket sales for these performances, the ducets selling at $1 for adults and 50c for children and students. Each performance will be an hour and a half long.

• • •

Advance Ticket Sale.

Chairman Randles plans to place the tickets in local downtown stores, as well as in various towns over the county, and expects to begin the ticket sale early next week.

President Shollenberger and Chairman Randles were in Dallas Tuesday evening conferring with Ed Watt, publicity agent for the Big D. Jamboree, who promises to plug the fair over Dallas radio and TV stations. The fair will also get publicity over a Fort Worth television show within the next two or three weeks.

In Dallas, Johnny Hicks will plug the fair and Big D. Jamboree event on his record show, Radio Station KRLD, from 10:30 to 11:30 p.m. The Big D. TV show will also make an announcement on the Saturday performance as will John Harper on his TV show each afternoon.

Some of the featured performers expected in McKinney with the Big D. Jamboree will be Jim Boyd and his Country Gentlemen; the Below Twins, Lafon Paul, Sonny James, Riley Crabtree, Fred Bragg, McKinney's own Mike McFarland, and many others.

• • •

County's Biggest Fair.

President Shollenberger and his committees have worked to make this one of Collin County's most successful fairs. It has been designed to draw thousands of visitors from over North Texas, and will feature one of the state's best purebred livestock shows, agricultural exhibits, commercial displays, carnival attractions, along with many other events which are planned.

The couple were married Tuesday evening, August 23, at 8 o'clock in the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Dallas at which time Dr. John F. Anderson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Dallas, officiated, assisted by Rev. Walter A. Bennett of the Westminster church.

The bride, who was Miss Marian Letitia Sherard before her marriage, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Sherard, 4439 Lemmon Ave., Dallas. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Wilson, 418 West Louisiana Street, McKinney.

A short organ recital by Mrs. Bruce Dougherty, preceded the nupials. She also accompanied Mrs. Robbin Moffat, of Irving, who sang, and played the traditional marches. The solos were "Song of Ruth" and "O Perfect Love All Human Thought Transcending."

The church decorations included a spiral arrangement of candles, and a large pillow of white chrysanthemums and carnations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in a lovely starlight white chantilly lace gown, which was fashioned with a lace bodice, portrait neckline edged with lace flowers. The waistline of the gown was defined with a pleated tucked taffeta cummerbund that tied in a lovers knot with streamers drifting over the formal lace skirt and train.

Her veil was of imported star white bridal illusion which fell from a tulle hat frosted with imported lace that tapered in dainty points on the sides. The hat was embroidered with irredescent pearls and sequins and the veiling cascaded in misty tiers to her fingertips. She carried a nosegay of white split carnations, pink rosebuds and a white orchid on a white ivory Bible.

Mrs. W. C. Sherard Jr., was matron of honor while bridesmaids were Miss Mellie Brown of Temple, Miss Angeline Wilson of Baton Rouge, La., and Mrs. Stanley Cobbs of Galveston. Georgeanne Ringland of Cape Girardeau, Mo., was flower girl.

The matron and bridesmaids wore sapphire blue tulle dresses, over matching satin, and carried Colonial nosegays of pink carnations and sweetheart roses. The flower girl was dressed in pink.

Paul K. Wilson Jr. attended his twin brother as best man, while groomsmen were Henry DeLaune of New Orleans, La., Bill Glazener, of Dallas, and John Brand of Houston. Ushers were Jerry Sims, W. C. Sherard Jr, Bill Kincaid, all of Dallas; Jack Walker of Houston; Eben LaRoe, Jess Cope and James Aubrey Griffin, of McKinney.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sherard wore a mauve lace dress with pink hat and matching accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Wilson, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in heliotrope, silk shantung with which she wore a pink hat and accessories and a pink gardenia corsage.

The reception was held in the garden at the Sherard home, where hurricane lamps were used to light the lawn. The bride's table was arranged on the porch of the summer house, where the four tiered wedding cake was served with punch. Lovebirds topped the cake. The table carried out a motif of pink in flowers and candles which burned in exquisite silver candelabra which had been in the family for three generations.

Members of the houseparty included Miss Mary Scott Dougherty of Houston, Miss Joan Blake of Brownwood, Miss Gay Walker of McKinney; Misses Carole Elliott, Beverly Tosch, Jane Enochs, Carolyn McCoy, Ann Cumber, all of Dallas; Mrs. Paul K. Wilson Jr. and Mrs. B. P. Kincaid, of Dallas and Misses Nancy and Betsy Ringland of Cape Girardeau, Mo.

After the reception members of the bridal party and houseparty were entertained at a late supper at the home of Miss Carole Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are both graduates of Austin College, Sherman, where she was president of Kappa Gamma Chi Sorority and listed in Who's Who. He was president of the student body, president of Phi Sigma Alpha fraternity, Alpha Chi honor fraternity, Who's Who, and was a member of the football team. He did graduate work at Rice Institute and the past year has been a member of the English department of Austin College, where he also did graduate work. He was born and reared in McKinney, where he graduated from High School. He is a descendant of prominent pioneer families of Collin County.

NEWS FROM THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS — of — THE COLLIN CO. SOIL CONSERVATION DIST.

Farmers cooperating with the Collin Soil Conservation District are looking ahead to fall seeding of winter legumes. They are planning to plant either Austrian Winter peas or Vetch on cropland and possibly Button Clover and small grains where grazing is a main objective.

Local Soil Conservation Service technical assigned to the District are urging all local farmers to plant a large acreage of fertilized, winter legumes for the land's sake. These legumes not only improve the soil by increasing the organic matter and fertility, but furnishes an excellent cover on what would be bare cropland during the winter and early spring months when cover is most needed to reduce erosion.

Several farmers in this area started applying the "Harber Method" of planting Vetch or Austrian Winter Peas the past year. This was done by deep placing the fertilizer and planting the legumes in bands on each side of the row. District cooperators who have already planted legumes with this method include Wilford Gray near Altoga, Lawrence Billings of Chambersville, Fred Bates east of McKinney, Vernon Barnett, east of Princeton, and Cecil Edwards of the Branch Community. Tom Montgomery and Wyman Mansfield of Princeton, O. L. McDonald of Winningkoff, and Leonard and Buster Welborn near Culleoka have stated they plan to start this fall. The district has available two machines which cooperators may use in planting and fertilizing winter cover crops by this method.

Those planning to plant legumes this fall should start preparing their land as soon as possible. They should be planted as soon after September 1 as practicaly and not later than November 15. In most cases legumes will show a great response to 200 pounds of 20 percent phosphate per acre. Seed, of course, should be inoculated properly immediately before planting.

Grocery shoppers should find the USDA's plentiful foods list for September to their liking for it is a long one.

Pork, beef, broilers and fryers head the list of meats; also included are grapes, rice and fresh Italian prunes, a newcomer, but expected to be bountiful since production for the year has been heavy.

Potatoes, pinto beans, fresh and processed lemons and limes and canned grapefruit sections are all in heavier supply than a year ago.

Milk and other dairy products such as cheese, butter and nonfat milk solids will continue to be abundant because of the relatively high level of milk production in July.

Vegetable fats and oils and lard along with canned tuna also will remain in heavy supply.

Hhe monthly list is based on a survey of supplies of foods in the major trade territories of the southwest area and is made by the area food distribution of the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Keep food safe in hot weather. Many cases of food poisoning in hot weather could be avoided by careful refrigeration.

Soft protein foods may spoil quickly in a warm place. Custards creamfilled pastries or cakes, cooked salad dressing, stuffed eggs, potato salad, creamed meat, poultry and fish are especially susceptible to spoilage in summer weather. None of these foods can safely stand around in picnic baskets or in a warm kitchen. Best precautions against spoilage of these foods are speedy refrigeration and short-time storage.

Foods that cause poisoning often show no sign of spoilage, so it's not safe to rely on taste, odor or appearance.

Because of the fat surplus and the demand for leaner cuts of pork swine producers are placing more emphasis on the selection of meat-type breeding animals.

In order to assist swine breeders with this selection problems, the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station has announced a swine testing program. Its purpose: evaluation prospective breeding stock under identical conditions and from those tested determine outstanding animals and set up lines of breeding superior to those now in existence.

The program is similar in many respects to the performance testing work being done by the Station with beef cattle. With hogs, the research workers will be attempting to identify boars, barrows and gilts which have the ability to make rapid gains efficiently and produce a carcass that is meaty and well-muscled; to establish the relative merit of various sire groups as potential breeders and to determine heritability vaues of economically important characteristics in swine.

Any Texas breeder of registered swine may enter one or two sire groups for testing. A sire group will consist of two boars, two barrows and two to four gilts sired by the same boar. The groups to be tested will be accepted on or after October 1, 1955 and on a first come, first served basis. The pigs will be weighted out of the test for carcass evaluation when they reach 200 pounds.

Details of th program were worked out in cooperation with the Texas Swine Breeders Association and Extension Service. Local county agricultural agents have detailed information and can supply copies of the program, or additional information may be obtained by writing to the Department of Animal Husbandry, Texas A. and M. College, College Station, Texas.

A list of twenty-three wheat varieties designed as undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities has been released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Because of their undesirability, a discount of 20 cents a bushel in 1956 price-support rates will be made to discourage the planting of the listed varieties.

The varieties were designated by the Agricultural Research Service after consultation with state agricultural experiment station personnel agronomists, cereal chemists and other qualified technicians on state and Federal staffs.

The price-support regulations for 1956 will provide for producer certification, that is, the identification of the variety of wheat going under price support will be the responsibility of the producer. It will be based on his knowledge of varieties seeded and harvested. varieties.

The twenty-three (23) varieties apply to any of the undesirable valisted accounted for only 31 million bushels of the 1954 production and 3.7 percent of the '54 wheat acreage. Th varieties shown on the list included seven which are planted in Texas. All are hard red winter wheats and are Red Chief Red Jacket, Kanket, Kanking, Chiefkan, Early Blackhull, New Chief and Yogo.

This change in the price-support program for wheat is designed to encourage the production of more desirable varieties and lessen the possibility of U. S. wheat of inferior quality finding its way into domestic and export channels. Strong backing has come from crop improvement associations.

YIELDS 113 BU. CORN PER ACRE

ROY ROBERTS

Roy Roberts, one of Collin County's largest landowners, outstanding farmers, business men and civic leaders, has recently harvested corn on a five acre tract of land in Northwest Collin County, which is said, by all who have seen it, to be the best they ever heard of.

Mr. Roberts has two corn fields this year, one of which he harvested the past week, gathering 565 bushels, or an average of 113 bushels per ace. The Soil Conservation Service measured the field for Mr. Roberts to assure accuracy in figuring the weight measurements. The other tract, of 15 acres will be gathered the first part of September.

This is by far the best yield of any corn grown in Collin County this year, so assert a number of farmers and agriculturists, who have seen the crop. It was planted in March, this year.

Mr. Roberts attributes his large yield to fertilizing of the ground, and irrigation. He planted the Texas Hybrid No. 3 variety, and the ground was fertilized with 200 pounds, per acre, of 16-20-0 fertilizer.

All of the Roberts' farm land produces bumper crops, which of course is due largely to proper care and treatment of the soil. Mr. Roberts was one of the first landowners in the county to become interested in and cooperate with the Collin County Soil Conservation Service. One of the first flood prevention dams built in the county, is on his land. He also has part of another dam, or reservoir, on his land from which he gets water for irrigation purposes, when there is a lack of rainfall. Mr. Roberts has also taken a tract of thin, rocky land out of cultivation, and planted it in King Ranch Blue Stem grass, which now affords good grazing for stock.

The Soil Conservation Service has helped Mr. Roberts with his grass plantings, waterways and terraces.

This bumper corn year should encourage other landowners in the area in growing soil building crops correct land use, and planting crops best adapted to their land.

ASA Advises Winter Legumes To Protect Soil From Erosion

Practice D-5, "Establishing Winter legumes In The Fall of 1955 For Winter Protection From Erosion" has been approved for Collin County advises P. L. Barksdale, Office Manager, Collin County ASC. This practice is as follows:

"A good stand and growth must be obtained in sufficient time to protect the area in the fall and winter of 1955. Pasturing conistant with good management is hay or seed. Volunteer stands will not qualify.

Where needed, a minimum of 30 pounds of phosphorous acid per acre is required. No cost-sharing is offered for the application of any fertilizer in excess of 50 pounds of pounds of phosphorous acid per acre.

Legume seed should be inoculated with fresh inoculants and must be seeded not later than November 30th, 1955. The crop must be left on the land until April 1st, 1956, unless the crop meets specifications as to growth and is released by the county committee.

Legumes may be seeded alone or in combination with nurse crop.

Eligible seeds, recommended seeding rates and Federal cost-shares are indicated below:

	Recommened Seeding Rates- Lbs. per Acre	Federal Cost-share Per Lb.
A-1 Austrian Winter & Dixie Wonder Peas	32	.04
2 Singletary Peas	32	.05
3. Button Clover	12	.15
4. Hairy Vetch	20	.08
5. Oats with a legume	60	.015
6. Barley with a legume	72	.015
7. Rye	60	.03
8. Rye - Grass	12	.06
B-1 Phosphorous Acid	40	.05

Sales receipts for seeds and fertilizers purchased, showing kind and quantity must be furnished by the producer unless the material is secured through CMS. Statement by producer, if seed are raised on the farm, showing kind and quantity."

Request for approval of this practice must be made at the county ASC Office, 123 S. Tenn. St., McKiney and approval issued before the practice is started.

Federal cost-sharing is also offered on construction of terraces, stock water ponds, erosion control dams, fall planted pasture grasses and producers interested in any of the above practices are requested to make application at the county office.

Government Discount On Undesireable Wheat Varieties

The U.S. Department of Agriculture announced on August 12, 1955 a discount of 20 cents per bushel in 1956 price support rates for 23 wheat varieties designated as undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities. Under the 1956 price support program the identification of the variety of wheat goin gin the loan will be the producer's responsibility. USDA officials state that this change in the wheat price support program for 1956 is designed to encourage production of the more desirable wheat varieties.

The following varieties are listed as undesirable and on which a discount of 20 cents per bushel will apply:

Hard Red Winter.

Purkof, Red Chief, Red Jacket, Kanking, Kanqueen, Chiefkan, Stafford, Early Pawnee, Early Blackhull, New Chief, Yogo, Blue Jacket.

Oklahoma Aid Is Asked For Hospital

ARDMORE, Okla. (Special).—A group of five McKinney, Texas, representatives met here Tuesday with members of local veterans organizations, in an effort to save the McKinney VA Hospital from consolidation with another such hospital.

* * *

Group Named.

Making the trip to confer with local members of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, and city officials were Hansford Ray, chairman of the hospital committee of the McKinney Chamber of Commerce; Tom W. Perkins Jr., of the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette newspapers there; Ralph B. Dickson, in charge of the Dallas office of the Texas Veterans Affairs Commission; Frank L. Davis, county veterans service officer, and Paul Hardin, director of the McKinney Chamber of Commerce.

The group offered proposed resolutions for action by local groups at the meeting.

* * *

Resolution Presented.

Earl Davis, past VFW commander who represented that group at the meeting, said today he will present the proposed resolution to the VFW chapter membership for action, at their regular meeting.

Other organizations are expected to do the same.

Mayor Ab Jolly represented the city of Ardmore at the meeting. He is expected to offer the proposed resolution to the city commission for action at their next meeting.

* * *

32% From Oklahoma.

"Thirty-two per cent of the patients at the hospital are from Southern Oklahoma," Ray declared, explaining why the McKinney group is asking support in this area.

The hospital, having a planned capacity of 1,000 beds, accommodates 600. About 400 more are turned away each year for lack of space, the Texas group revealed.

* * *

Law Operating Cost.

"Cost of operating the hospital is $16 per patient per day," Ray continued, claiming that this was among the lowest costs of any VA Hospital in the country.

"Furthermore," he pointed out, "We're located 30 miles from Dallas—far enough away to probably escape being hit in case of war, yet near enough to be readily available in case of any disaster."

Mrs. H. S. Baxter was organist and Duke Caldwell, vocalist, presenting the pre-nuptial wedding music. Mr. Caldwell sang "O Promise Me" and "Because." He also sang "The Lord's Prayer" after the nuptials.

The fitted bodice of lace, frosted over satin, had tiny lace cap sleeves and the bodice fastened down the back with tiny buttons. The graceful skirt of satin was appliqued with the lace and was waltz length. Satin gauntlets complemented the gown. The veil was caught to a small fitted cap.

Mrs. John Max Cox, of Victoria, twin sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a white street length dress, with low neckline and full skirt, fashioned after the bride's dress. Her flowers were dark blue carnations.

John Max Cox, of Victoria, was best man while groomsmen were Charles Thurman of Grand Prairie, Tommy Quinn of Waco, Rev. George Kemp, Billy Foil and Ellsworth Shatley, all of McKinney, and Charles Vandagriff, of Marshall.

The wedding reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church with Mrs. Dorothy Donalson at the cake and Mrs. George Kemp at the punch bowl. Mrs. Sara Petty presided at the guest book.

The table, from which refreshments were served, was decorated in the bride's colors of blue and white, with flowers in these colors, centering the table. Members of the reception houseparty included Miss Pat Philips, Miss Edna McQuirter and Miss Shirley Tibbit.

The newlyweds left for a Dude Ranch near New Braunfels to spend their honeymoon after which they will reside at 825 Baylor Ave., Waco. For traveling Mrs. Fitzhenry wore a rust figured dress with full skirt, and black accessories.

Camp Tashuta Comes To Close Here Friday

—CAMP TASHUTA, Day Camp for Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls of McKinney, came to a successful close Friday with the largest attendance in the five year history of the day camp.

Mrs. W. W. Ball, Camp Fire Director here, reports 98 girls in attendance, 43 of which were Blue Birds. Thee camp this year was held on the picnic grounds of the VA Hospital, an ideal location for the activities. The enrollment was divided into groups, with counselors and their assistant directing the courses.

Waterfront Program.

Two features of the camp were swimming, and horseback riding. The waterfront program was held at the Jaycee Recreation Center pool, where Mrs. John Jeanes was director. Jim Alford Willis, vice president of the Collin County Saddle Association, assisted by members of the association, furnished horses and instruction for the horseback riding classes.

Transporatation to and from camp was furnished through the courtesy of the McKinney School Board, which provided a school bus and driver, for this purpose.

Cooperative Living.

According to Mrs. Ball, day camp is not a place, but a way of living which stimulates mind and body, enriches life and builds the habits of happy cooperative living. It's quite a treat to visit Camp Tashuta, to hear the girls singing, watch them make jewerly of rocks, twisted wire and leather thongs; see them march off to their archery lesson, or board the bus for the riding arena. Another group gathered under a big tree to get their "buddy" burners ready for the noon meal.

Near the small creek, under the willows, the older girls painted Indian designs on canvas for a real Indian Teepee. In the distance other girls could be seen returning from a hike to the canyon and the cave.

All of the girls and their leaders are of the same opinion. "It's fun to day camp — spending the night under the stars, and cooking their meals over an open fire." These are a few of the activities which kept the girls happy and busy the past week. Their five days of outdoor living came to a successful close Friday morning with an impressive ceremony.

Prepare Meals.

During the noon period each day, the girls either took sack lunches, or prepared their meals. Refreshing drinks and milk were provided through the courtesy of the local Nehi Bottling Company; Coca Cola Bottling Company; Dr. Pepper, Cabell's and Foremost daries.
